Join ICANN in London for gTLD Reveal Day

Please join us in London on Wednesday 13 June for the international unveiling of applied-for domain names under ICANN's new generic Top Level Domain (gTLD) program. This will mark the next phase in one of the most significant developments in the history of the Internet.

On Reveal Day, ICANN will announce which companies, organisations, start-ups, geographical regions and others, have applied for gTLDs and what those domains are. ICANN has received over 1,900 applications from around the world, so the stage is set for a very informative day.

Proceedings will commence with a press conference hosted by ICANN's CEO Rod Beckstrom, followed by a forum and networking opportunity.

Date: Wednesday 13 June, 2012

Location: Kings Place, 90 York Way, London N1 9AG

Time: 12.00-16.00

RSVP: andrew.robertson@edelman.com

The event will also be streamed live at www.icann.org.
